Professional Background

Jack has provided space planning and management services to a variety of clients since forming CFP in 1994. His expertise is in the development of space factors used in space needs calculations. He has been team leader for projects at institutions ranging from large research universities to small community colleges. Jack has considerable experience in working with athletics, engineering, health sciences, law, nursing, physical sciences, and psychology programs.

Prior to CFP, he was senior facilities planner with The Ohio State University. Jack was responsible for the preparation of eight capital plans and over one hundred programs of requirements for athletic, instructional, library, research and medical facilities.

Prior to Ohio State, he was employed by the Ohio Board of Regents and was responsible for the capital planning process for the public institutions in Ohio. While at the Regents, Jack authored the "Space Planning Guidelines" for use by the public institutions of higher education in Ohio.

Jack has published extensively on such subjects as space planning guidelines, building condition audits, capital planning, and facilities programming and has made over 30 presentations for such organizations as SCUP, APPA and CEFPI. Mr. Probasco has also held positions as senior systems analyst for the Ohio Department of Finance (Office of Budget & Management) and as an economic statistician for the federal government.
